4 It is stated in the Govt. order that no orders are required in the case of high functionaries like the Dewan and members of Council as such appointments are held during the pleasure of His Highness the Maharaja. I am not aware of any orders under which the Dewan and Councillors hold their respective offices during the pleasure of His Highness in a sense other than that in which all officers of the State do so. If according to the usual meaning of the phrase it is intended that the Dewan and Councillors should be regarded as entitled to hold their offices within any tenure being fixed and without any reference to age limit, such a rule would be an important departure from the ordinary practice in such cases

5 It is neither usual or desirable to leave the initiative in such a matter to be taken by the Supreme authority; and it is in my respectful opinion necessary to adhere to the rule which requires that periodical statements in all such cases should come in ordinary course from the audit office and be placed before the proper authority for consideration and orders.

I respectfully agree with the draft which has been prepared under the Dewan's orders. As the whole file including the statement of officers submitted by the Comptroller goes up before His Highness, nothing more is required. If H.H. does not pass any orders regarding the officers in question it will be understood that they are to continue. And similarly the absence of any reference to these officers in the Govt. order communicated to the Comptroller will be the Comptroller's authority, under the order now proposed to be issued, to continue to pass the pay of the officers concerned. /
